

"International Trade Law" Submission Guidelines

Article 1. Format of manuscripts

1. Manuscripts should be submitted in Korean or English based on this guideline.
2. Manuscript files should be submitted in Hangul or Microsoft Word format.

Article 2. Criteria for manuscripts

All submitted manuscripts must contain original work not previously published in other journals.

Article 3. Instructions for manuscripts

1. Authors are required to select the article type for their manuscript from among the following: research paper, case study, research material, global trend, etc.
2. The length of the manuscript should be 20~25 pages.
3. Manuscripts should consist of a Title Page, Main Text, References, Abstracts in Korean, and Abstracts in English.
4. A manuscript title page should include the following information: article type, title (both in Korean and English), author's name (also in English in parentheses), affiliation, position, degree, contact information (address, phone number, email), bank account number, and resident registration number.
5. In the case of an article by multiple authors, the lead author should be listed first (the first author) and identified from co-authors.
6. Abstracts in Korean and English and less than ten keywords (in Korean or English) should be provided after the main texts.
7. Unless provided otherwise, manuscripts should follow “American Psychological Association style (APA style).”

Article 4. Submission of Manuscripts

Completed manuscripts should be submitted one month before the date of publication to the official email or Online Journal Article & Management System (JAMS).